

This branch is closing – but your bank is always open

Our Dovercourt & Harwich branch is closing on Friday 29 September 2017

Branch closure feedback and alternative ways to bank.

Sharing branch closure feedback

We're now nearing the closure of the Dovercourt & Harwich branch of Barclays. Our first booklet explained why the branch is closing, and gave information on other banking services that we hope will be convenient for you.

We do understand that the decision to close a branch affects different communities in different ways, so we've spoken to people in your community to listen to their concerns. We wanted to find out how your community, and particular groups within it, could be affected when the branch closes, and what we could do to help people through the transition from using the branch with alternative ways to carry out their banking requirements.

We contacted the following groups:

MP:

Bernard Jenkins

Local Council

Cllr Ivan Henderson

Customers

A number of customers who regularly use the branch

We asked all of the groups to answer three questions. You'll find their responses below.

In your opinion, what's the biggest effect that this branch closing will have on your local community?You said to us:

Although some people have told us they are sad to see the branch closing, there have been few other concerns from the community.

We'd like to say

We have thought about closure very carefully, and looked in detail at how this branch is used. Many customers already also use nearby branches and online or telephone banking and we've seen a general fall in customers coming to the branch. For cash needs, there are three other High Street banks with ATMs very nearby. We are also encouraging people to do their everyday banking at the Post Office at Reynolds Newsagents, Dovercourt, which is open between 8.30am and 5.30pm Monday to Friday and between 8:00am and 1.00pm on Saturday.

What's the biggest effect that this branch closing will have on customers of the branch?

You said to us:

There are concerns about customers who may depend particularly on the branch.

We'd like to say

We are aware of those customers who rely solely on this branch and we're speaking directly with them to make sure they are aware of the many alternative ways to do their banking which are available. This includes telephone banking to speak to someone in person. We have made sure they're familiar with the Post Office arrangement too.

We've been offering support from our Digital Eagles to help customers adapt to new ways of banking that mean they don't have to come into the branch so often.

What alternative ways to bank do you believe would help people adapt to the change?

You said to us:

Customers will need help if they are to adopt new banking methods.

We'd like to say

We've encouraged customers to use other ways to do their everyday banking, including Mobile and Online Banking – and Telephone Banking if they would prefer to speak to someone. We have run two 'Tea and Teach' events at the branch to show customers other ways to bank, as well as how to set up a regular payment and order cards and PINs. Support is also available through our telephony and website services.

Other things to help with the change...

At the Post Office customers can withdraw cash, pay in cash and check balances using a debit card and pin. Customers can also pay in cash using a pre-printed paying in slip at the Reynolds Newsagents, Dovercourt and Upper Dovercourt Post Offices, although it could take an extra two days to reach Barclays accounts using a paying in slip. Unfortunately this service is not currently available at Market Street Post Office.

Both business and personal customers can pay in cheques. You'll need:

1. a pre-printed paying-in slip. You'll find these in your cheque book, or you can order them at any branch
2. a paying-in envelope. We have extra stock in the Dovercourt & Harwich branch, so please call in before the closure to pick some up. Otherwise, just call 0800 169 3091 for these, and we'll pop some in the post.
